DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being incomplete for omitting essential structural cooperative relationships of elements, such omission amounting to a gap between the necessary structural connections. See MPEP § 2172.01. The omitted structural cooperative relationships are:
3. In regards to claim 1, line 2 states: "an input unit for inputting first data in first units of transmission".
4. However, subsequent claim limitations do not mention "first units of transmission"; what is done with this "first units of transmission" or how is it being used later?
5. What is the relationship between this "first units of transmission" and rest of the claim limitations? As such, claim 1 is being incomplete for omitting essential structural cooperative relationships of elements, such omission amounting to a gap between the necessary structural connections.
6. Similarly, claim 1, line 11 states "second units of transmission".
7. However, subsequent claim limitations do not mention "second units of transmission"; what is done with this "second units of transmission" or how is it being used later?

8. What is the relationship between this "second units of transmission" and rest of the claim limitations? As such, claim 1 is being incomplete for omitting essential structural cooperative relationships of elements, such omission amounting to a gap between the necessary structural connections.
9. Similar issues exist for claim 6.

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments see pages 8-11 of the Remarks section, filed 7/8/2009, with respect to 35 USC 112 rejections of the claims have been fully considered.
2. However, a new ground of rejections is presented in this office action. As such, any further response to Applicant's argument is moot.
